

Inspired Coaching

Four days of intensive, challenging, entertaining and accredited development that will improve your business, improve your leadership skills and improve all of your relationships. You can have the ability to ask the right questions and get the right information; to make great first impressions; to put people at their ease....."I can't believe I've told you that"....and...."I feel like I've known you for years"..... will be comments you will soon get used to hearing.

- How do you know you're getting the best from your colleagues?
- How do you know you're getting the best from your boss, or even from yourself?
- Can you afford to continue to make unreliable judgements about other people, in either your personal or professional encounters?
- How valuable would it be to have a proven framework for your "difficult" conversations, about performance, about selection, promotion and recognition that would inspire the people around you to greater achievements, while securing their loyalty and commitment to your business?
- How worthwhile would it be to have the ability to guide another person through a systematic process that will help them to solve their own problems, without ever resorting to inappropriate advice or homespun stories?

All of this and more will be achieved when you qualify as an Inspired Coach.

You may even be considering a career as a coach? Many people begin coaching without the benefit of a structured, universal approach, which can lapse into folksy chat. Folksy chats are nice, they just don't resolve any issues.
